January Challenges

Biographies are books that tell the story of people's lives. Our library has many interesting biographies. Choose one and I will stamp your passport.

I already challenged you to read a fairy tale, but there are so many good ones, I am challenging you again. Read a fairy tale and I will happily stamp your passport. If you read a version of Cinderella, I will give you a bonus stamp!

Mrs. Robertson really loves fairy tales, but let's mix it up some. I challenge you to read a fractured fairy tale or a tall tale. Fractured tales take the traditional story and change it up. Some suggestions are The Wolf's Story, The Three Ninja Pigs, and The True Story of the Three Little Pigs. Read a tall tale or a fractured fairy tale for a stamp in your passport.

I challenge you to read a nonfiction book. As your school nurse, I am at the Vine Street School most afternoons. Read any nonfiction book and come to the main office for me to stamp your passport.

February is Black History month. During this month we celebrate the contributions African Americans have made to the world. We have many books in our library on this topic including books about Martin Luther King, John Henry, and Rosa Parks. Choose any book related to this topic and Mrs. Silk will stamp your passport.
